NINETEEN SIXTY-EIGHT

FOREWORD

The 1968 Macofitz Staff has striven to produce a special annual since this year marks the 20th anniversary of the Macofitz publication, and, possibly, its last year. We of the Macofitz Staff felt that a brief review of the annual's history might prove of interest to its readers.

In 1937 the first annual, the Nik-Nak, which was a soft-back book consisting of less than fifty pages, was published. The Nik-Nak Staff also published a free monthly school paper.

In 1939 the first hard-back annual was distributed. The Nik-Nak of 1943 records the addition of a grade between the seventh grade and the first year of high school, effecting a change from an eleven-year program to one of twelve years. The annual in 1944 was the largest up to that time, consisting of fifty-two pages. The foreward of this annual brings out that the annual was published with hope that it would not only help the students remember their school days but also to show "just how American Schools are able to bear up during war."

The annual's name was changed in 1948 to the "Macofitz" in honor of the Irish and Scottish ancestors who settled this area many decades ago. "Mac," "O", and "Fitz" are Irish and Scottish prefixes meaning "the descendant of."

The annual staff proudly presents the 1968 edition of the MACOFITZ with the hope that it will preserve many of your precious memories of this school year at Stedman High.

A SALUTE TO . . .

We, the Senior Class of 1967-'68, wish to voice our gratitude for the many experiences that we have shared with the faculty of Stedman High School. Our paths have not always been smooth; nonetheless, you, the faculty, have made our years here meaningful. We appreciate each of you for your loyalty to our education and your interest in our well being. We have chosen from your number one who exemplifies the admirable qualities you uphold. During our five years at Stedman we have come to love and appreciate this man. His eagerness to teach well was overshadowed only by a genuine interest in his students as individuals. He inspired his students to become more mature, hard-working young men and women.

With much esteem and gratitude, we dedicate the 1967-'68 Macofitz to you, MR. ELDRIDGE STARLING.

A P.T.A. President and mother of two children was heard to say, "If the Public School will teach my children respect for others and self-discipline, that is all I would ever ask." We would agree with this mother that these are two desirable values and we would strive in instill both in each student.

We congratulate each senior upon his graduation and wish to thank Miss Faircloth and the Annual Staff for this fine pictorial record of this school year.

Judged on natural beauty, poise, posture, stage personality, and grace-fulness, 26 semi-finalists were chosen. Friday night, the semi-finalists, attired in street clothes, went through the final stage of competition, at the end of which six finalists were chosen. From these six, lovely Miss Gretta Horne was chosen our new Miss Stedman.

The work of the Macofitz staff is never done. July 15 marks the beginning of their work. The advertisements they sell to local businesses and manufacturers after that date is their main source of payment for the annual.

Then comes the tedious job of organizing the annual. This year the co-editors, Janice Faircloth and Anne Simmons, and the sponsor, Miss Doris Faircloth, have worked diligently to organize and direct the production of the 1968 Macofitz. Without their fine leadership and the dedicated efforts of the annual staff members the Macofitz would not be possible.

THANK YOU, MISS FAIRCLOTH

This poem is dedicated to you,
For you were always there
To help with things we had to do,
And keep us from despair.

The work was hard, the hours were long,
But you pushed, you pulled, and urged us on;
We were all so weak
While you were so very strong.

Though seldom did we say it,
The gratitude for your part,
Surely you know there always was
A "thanks" in every heart.

It makes no difference where we go
Or even what we do,
We'll never find another soul
As wonderful as you.

So if you ever reminisce
Of things lost in the past,
Please, you must remember this:
Our love for you will ever last.

Janice C. Faircloth

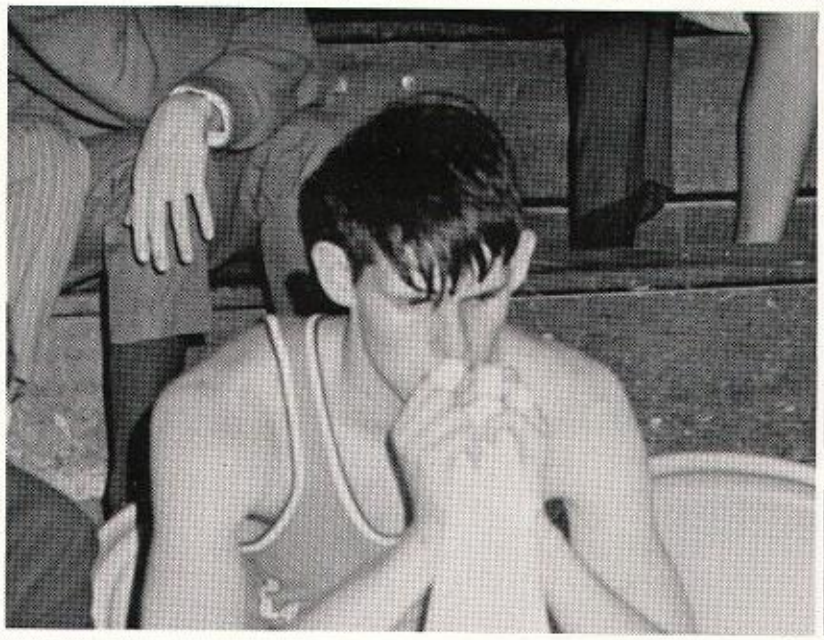
Phooey on you!

How can anyone so smart be so spastic?

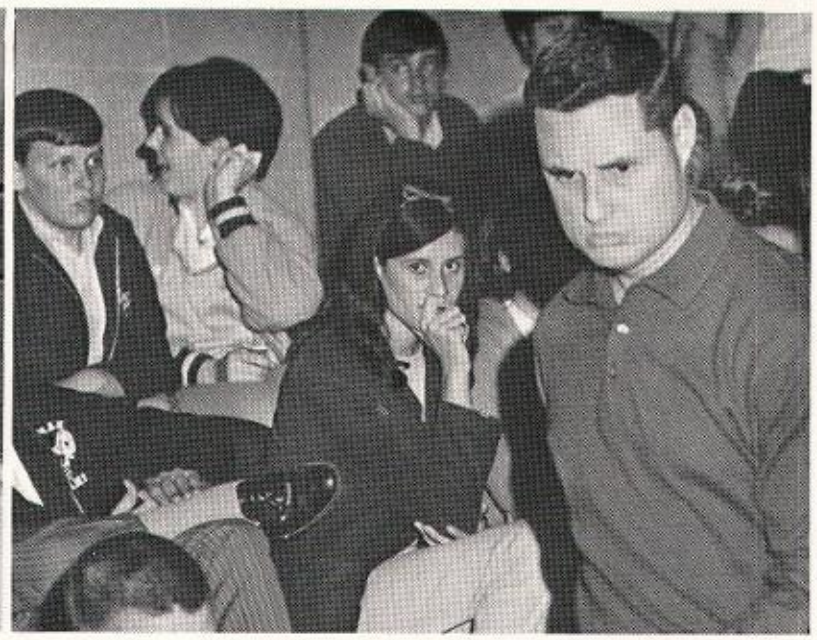
First one to score thirty points gets an "A" in French.

Who called me Miss French?

Why don't you all just go away?

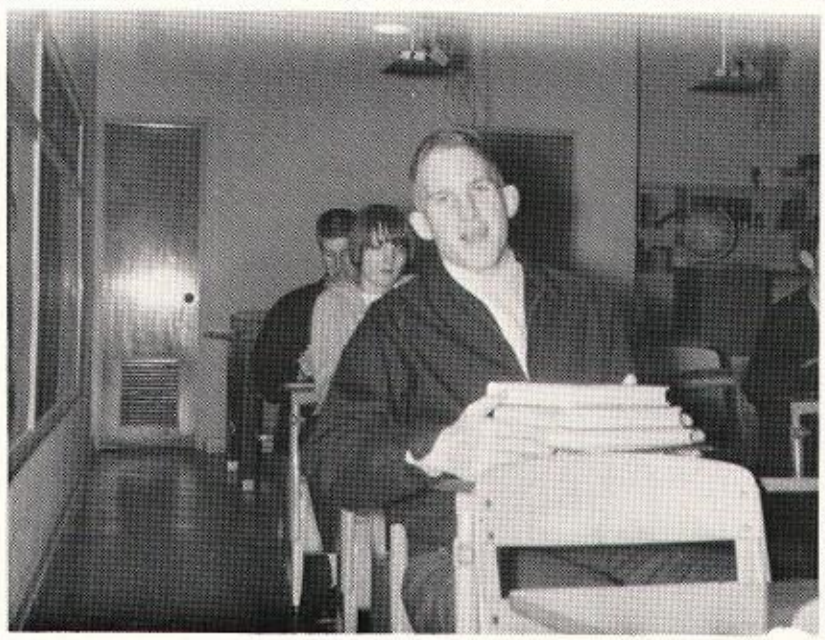


Lynnus and his security blanket?



Excedrin headache Number 234.

Who was the wise guy that spelled Beta Club wrong on his application????



Hi, Gang!
